Martin Makes Finals at Senior National Swimming Championships

Takara Martin of the Northwest Narwhal Swim Club competed at the Senior National Championships held at the Kinsmen Aquatic Centre in Edmonton, Alberta this past weekend. The event welcomed over 400 Canadian swimmers representing 150 clubs across Canada.

“The Summer National Championships in Edmonton will see some of our next wave of Olympic level athletes shine as they aim to qualify for our Senior development team and Junior Pan Pacific teams,” said Pierre Lafontaine, CEO and National Coach for Swimming Canada. “We’re focused on building the next generation of Canadian swimming heroes today. Having the Olympic Games around the corner will surely spark the dream of being in that arena in four years.”

This was Takara’s first time competing at the Senior National event. She made finals in both the 50m and 100m breast stroke events placing her in the top 20.
